

MAJORITY OF FIVE AGAINST THE BILL

Test Vote on the Primary Election Bill in the Senate.

BALLOT WAS 18 TO 13

Two Absent Senators Against It Brings Opposition to Twenty-Two.

AGAINST VOTING MACHINES

Madison, Wis., April 5.—A test vote on the primary election bill was precipitated in the senate this morning and it showed a majority of five against the bill—the vote being 18 to 13. Senators Jackson and More who were absent are understood to be against the bill making the actual strength against it twenty-two.

The vote was precipitated by a resolution by Senator Gevaeny calling on the committee on privileges and elections for a report this evening on the original primary bill introduced by Senator Miller which was held back when the substitute assembly bill was reported.

Sensor Miller opposed the resolution but it went through. The bill reported was a substitute for the primary election bill and will be made a special order for next Wednesday evening.

Against Voting Machines.

The bill resolution for a constitutional amendment legalizing the use of voting machines was lost the vote being 16 to 15 in favor, but a majority of all members is required.

The assembly sent the bill conveying the Green Bay ship canal grant to Ephraim Mariner and Charles Pfister to a special committee.

The Primary Election Bill.

Madison, Wis., April 5.—The committee on privileges and elections of the senate yesterday afternoon decided to report the Stevens primary election substitute without recommendation and the senate last evening received the report. The committee recommended that the bill be made the special order of business for next Wednesday evening.

When the upper house received the report Chairman Hutton moved that the bill be taken up at eight o'clock on the evening named and this motion prevailed unanimously.

The action of the committee places the fight on the bill directly before the upper house. The course is now plain. It will be an open fight for passage or indefinite postponement. The opponents of the bill say that at least twenty senators will vote against the bill while the friends of the bill take the opposite view. They admit that they have not enough votes now, but say that they will be forthcoming when the time comes.

To Follow Minnesota Law.

An important admission was made by one of the governor's workers. He said that a slight change would be offered in the bill when it came up for passage. He declared that the state nominations were to be dropped and that the bill would be made to cover propositions similar to the Minnesota law just passed by the legislature of that state. He said that in a few days copies of the law would be received here and that in some respects the Wisconsin measure might be changed so as to include only congressional, legislative and county nominations.

Fight Over Woman's Suffrage.

The feature of the evening session of the assembly was the successful fight made by David Evans, Jr., to save his joint resolution for a constitutional amendment allowing women to vote from being killed. The vote advancing it to a third reading was 49 to 33. The resolution was on the calendar without recommendation and the general expectation was that it would be slaughtered.

WILL RETURN FLAGS TO THE CAPITOL

Badger Veterans Will Restore the Emblems of Battle with Pomp and Ceremony.

Madison, Wis., April 5.—The soldiers interested in securing the Wisconsin battle flags returned to the capitol from the state historical building have set April 16 as the time for making the transfer with fitting ceremony. A committee of Department Commander D. G. James, Colonel C. A. Curtis, Senators O'Neill, Stebbins, Knudson and Anson; and Assemblymen Smith and Henry, Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms J. W. Baldock, also Quartermaster F. A. Bird and former Senator H. C. Putnam has been appointed to make arrangements. It is proposed to have, where possible, the flags carried by men who bore them during the war.

The flags are now in the new library building, and the veterans, escorted by the university band and the university cadets, the governor's guard and the Lucius Fairchild post, G. A. R., will march from the capitol to the library building and there take the flags and carry them back to their old place in the rotunda of the capitol.

They will be met at the capitol by the governor, Senators O'Neill and Knudson and others, who will deliver addresses of welcome to the old battle scarred emblems.

DEMOCRATS BOOST PAUL D. CARPENTER

Hope That the Newly Elected Milwaukee Judge Will Lead Them to Victory.

Madison, Wis., April 5.—Democrats, led by the Journal, are already talking of Paul D. Carpenter, for the gubernatorial nomination two years hence.

Mr. Carpenter's magnificent campaign for the county judgeship, which resulted in his election, has inspired the minority party with the hope that the son of the ex-senator will be able to lead it out of the wilderness. Young Carpenter is a good speaker and a good lawyer. His friends say that he is booked for leadership in the democracy.

J. G. Donnelly, for twenty years registrar of probate, who resigned that position to go to Mexico as consul general under Cleveland, is a candidate for his old position under Judge Carpenter.

LABOR LEADERS ARE IN SECRET SESSION

ST. PAUL ROAD ASKS STATE AID; WANTS TO EXTEND LINE WESTWARD

Desires to Limit Power of J. J. Hill, Who Is Blocking the Progress of the Road in Its Efforts Toward Extension.

Madison, Wis., April 5.—The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad company claims that James J. Hill is blocking its progress, and has appealed to the Wisconsin senate for relief.

This statement was made yesterday while the judiciary committee of the senate was considering a railway bill. It was said that Hill owns one-sixth of the stock of the Milwaukee road, and with this lever was preventing the road from extending its lines into the west.

George N. Wiswell, the representative of the St. Paul road, appeared before the committee for the passage of the bill.

Wants the Law Modified.

Under the present laws of the state a railroad in order to increase its capital stock, to make improvements or acquire additional mileage must obtain the two-thirds vote of the stockholders. The bill now pending proposes to cut down the percentage to a majority of the stockholders.

In explaining the object of the bill Mr. Wiswell said that the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern were controlled by the Hill interests and that the two roads had entered into a ninety-nine year contract with the Burlington road on western business. By the terms of the agreement the St. Paul road was deprived of a large amount of business from the west and that it was determined to get it.

Mr. Wiswell explained that J. J. Hill had received one-sixth of the stock of the St. Paul road which was enough to give him control of it in the way of improvements.

Need of State Assistance.

The Milwaukee road was desirous of increasing its stock and of extending its line into the western country, and becoming a competing line with the Hill roads. Mr. Hill was opposed to this plan and was blocking it.

It was said that if the state modified the law so that a majority of the stockholders increase the stock of the road, Hill could no longer control its policy so far as extensions were concerned, and the Milwaukee road would be able to build into western territory.

The committee decided to recommend the bill for passage.

The committee decided to recommend the bill for passage.

Beloit, Wis., April 5.—The funeral of Engineer Charles Menzie, whose tragic death at Milwaukee has caused widespread mourning was held in this city this afternoon at one o'clock and was one of the most eloquent tributes ever paid to the memory of a noble man.

LORD CARRINGTON IS INSULTED

Meets Violent Pro-Roor Demonstrations on Way from Lisbon.

London, April 5.—Dispatches received here from Paris reiterate the stories of affronts to Lord Carrington and his suite while returning from Lisbon after formally announcing King Edward's accession to King Charles of Portugal.

It seems that the train on which the mission traveled conveyed a number of nurses returning from the Boer army. The result, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Paris, was that at every station there were violent anti-British scenes.

Lord Carrington and his suite were openly insulted, while the nurses were greeted with loud cheers. The situation became so intolerable that the British mission finally changed trains.

He was hurried to the city hospital and will die. A. J. Shanley of the bark Harvester was shot in the back. At the city receiving hospital the bullet could not be located. His chances of recovery are fair.

TELLS OF CRUELTY.

Convicts at Henderson's Camp in Florida Horribly Tortured.

Tampa, Fla., April 5.—The bruises and sores that covered the body bore out the story that James Miller told yesterday of the cruelties practiced in Henderson's convict camp. He had just returned from serving a sentence there.

Miller says that on January 15 he was stripped, thrown to the ground and held there by negroes while Captain John Smith applied the lash till the blood came. Richard Howard, who helped hold him during the whipping, and other negroes who had served terms in the camp and were present, corroborated Miller's story. On his ankles were ugly sores made by his shackles.

He also told of numerous other cruelties. Jesse Brown, Miller says, was whipped until his back became so raw he could not lay on it for two weeks. He saw keepers rub burned leather on sore backs and sulphur into raw places. Fifteen-year-old boys were whipped in the same way and just as severely, while some prisoners were whipped as many as six times a day.

GOLF TOURNAMENT SOMETIME IN JULY

Sinnissippi Club Offers Cup for Badger Teams Competing.

Will Draw Big Crowd

Messrs. Baker and Schaller Make Proposition to the Western Association.

THE OFFICERS AND MEMBERS

Unusual and unexpected interest was centered in the annual meeting of the Western Golf association which took place at the Grand Pacific hotel in Chicago yesterday.

After the regular meeting several Wisconsin golfers, who were present, including President James Cavanaugh and W. H. Yule of Kenosha and Secretary J. P. Baker and Albert Schaller of the Sinnissippi Golf club of Janesville, discussed the advisability of forming a Wisconsin state league including all of the golf clubs in the state.

Janesville Club Trophy.

J. P. Baker of Janesville said that his club would put up a very valuable trophy, which was at present in their possession, emblematic of the championship of Wisconsin, and that they would also provide runner up and consolation prizes for the first tournament, which they proposed to hold on the Sinnissippi links about the first of July.

The intention is to have the winner of the championship trophy annually defend it on the links of the club to which it belongs, and have the winner's club provide the secondary prizes, so that considerable interest may be evinced in the event every year.

Mr. Baker's proposition was very favorably received by the other Wisconsin golfers present; and there is no doubt that the little informal meeting which was held yesterday afternoon will result in the holding of an annual state championship, the first meeting to take place on the links of the Sinnissippi golf club at Janesville about July.

SENATE THE FOCUS OF ATTENTION AMONG THE PEOPLE OF WISCONSIN

It Will Soon Have to Dispose of Bill That is Holding All Other Legislation—Personal Gossip of Members of That Body.

The state senate, writes Ellis B. Usher, in the Milwaukee Journal, is now the focus of popular attention. It will soon have to dispose of the bill that has kept all other legislative action in abeyance—the primary election bill. Personally, the senators are an agreeable lot of gentlemen, and they have many interesting points of individuality which, a person who looks on every day, as I do, must, of necessity, notice.

"Long" Jones is, by common consent, regarded as the leader of the "stalwart" majority of the senate, especially in matters that have politics in them. Senator McGillivray, whose head took on a few extra shades of red the other day, when his good roads resolution was sent glimmering, remarked, feelingly, that he didn't see "how Wisconsin ever got along before 'Long' Jones moved into the state." Senator "Jim" did not speak this in compliment, for he was "hot," and he hasn't recovered. There was more truth than poetry in his assertion that his bill was slugged because of his LaFollette leanings, and the vote by which his amendment died, 18 to 12, will not be so very far away as a test of the primary bill's strength. He got two more votes than he was entitled to, Gaveny and Reynolds voting with him. But the real cause of this trouble was the mild-mannered, deep voiced senator from Eau Claire, McDonough, who started after Mac's resolution three weeks ago. Senator Jones was only a passenger, and Senator Jim's wrath made him smile that quiet smile of his.

Jones An Erratic Speaker. Senator McGillivray made a very good talk for his resolution and, as a rule, he talks to the point. Senator Jones is an erratic speaker. He is a much better "single handed talker" than public speaker. When he attempts a speech his ideas travel faster than his tongue, and a stenographic report of one of his speeches would reveal a good many sentences suspended in midair. Yet he makes himself understood, and frequently hits bulls-eyes.

Senator O'Neill, who is a lumber scaler from Washburn, is a civil war veteran, who comes in strong on that day, occasionally, and he is the wag of the senate. His appeal for more colonels, the other day, on Senator Miller's bill, to confer that title upon the military instructor of the state university, was one of the racy events of the season. He is full of fun and good nature, and finds it mighty hard to stick to the serious side of any proposition, if it has a droll one.

Senator Mills Always There. Senator Mills is an odd specimen. He introduces bills, as a bird molts its feathers, so far as any one can judge. He is alert, however, on every movement in legislation and is always on hand.

Senator Stebbins, the banker-news-paper statesman from Algoma, is known among the younger members as "Pa," and he answers to the title. He is serving his second term, and takes pride in the fact that he has never introduced a bill, nor attempted a speech. He damns the primary election bill, but says "I'm fixed, I've got to vote for it," and everybody supposes that his old friend, "Ike" Stephenson, did the fixing.

Orators for Milwaukee. Senators Roehr and Eaton are the orators from Milwaukee. Senator Eaton having a more intimate acquaintance with the Blarney stone, is the more fluid orator of the two, but he doesn't "cut loose" as often as his colleague. Senator Roehr is a graduate of the state university and when he really rises to his full height upon the wings of rhetoric, it is likely to be for his alma mater.

BRONCHITIS

may mean a mere cold or a chronic incurable inflammation of wind-pipes.

The quickest relief, for a cold, is also the most effectual balm for the worst condition of wind-pipes and lungs.

It takes the edge off a cold in a night, and relieves it progressively—one forgets it after a little.

An old bronchitis, however, is obstinate. Nothing restores the tissues, when once destroyed; and an old bronchitis has gradually impaired and partly destroyed the lining of those small pipes between throat and lungs.

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil is the balm; it soothes if it cannot restore.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York

It is a notable fact that of the thirty-three members of the house fourteen are natives of Wisconsin, an evidence that the state is growing older. Ten years ago a native of Wisconsin in the upper house was an exception, not the rule. In 1891 seven senators were natives of the state, and ten years earlier, in 1881, the senate contained but three members who were born Badgers—Quarles, Blackstone and Crosby.

These natives of the state are Senators Gaveny, Green (Jacobs, Hagemaster, Devos, Knudson, Mills, Reynolds, Riordon, Eaton, Burns, Martin, Miller and Kreutzer. A lot of bright men, all under fifty years of age, and a majority of them under forty. Senator Knudson of Sheboygan will not be twenty-seven years old until April 30.

Senate Composed of Young Men. Another thing that this glance at the personnel of the house discloses is, that there are not over a dozen men in the senate who are over fifty years old, and of these at least seven are counted for LaFollette, or doubtful, on the primary bill test. This knocks out the assumption that "Little Bob" is followed by the young men. "Long" Jones, who is sixty-four, and a "stalwart," is fairly offset by "Pa" Stebbins, who will be sixty-six years old next Friday.

It is a senate of young men, almost half its members are Badgers, and several more have grown from childhood to manhood in this state. It is anything but a body of moss-back, machine politicians. I have some distance to run myself to reach the semi-centennial mark, but I find myself old in knowledge of past politics and legislatures in comparison with most of them. It will not do for the primary elections people to cry that "the old machine" is after them for Charley Pfister himself is several years younger than Gov. La Follette. If he is credited with being the machine "boss," something besides his age will have to be brought in to prove it.

Mr. Whitehead's Influence. But, to return to personal gossip, I think Senator Whitehead commands more weight than any senator on the floor when he makes a statement regarding legislation. He is credited with care and sincerity, and when he says a thing is so, it is accepted, not alone because it is made in good faith, but because it is reliable.

Senator Hutton has the respect of everybody. He seldom talks, except on business, and then to the point, briefly. He is stiff-necked in his aversion to loose methods, and frequently votes "no," all alone. The other day he brought out a broad smile, all over the house, by voting "aye," to suspend the rules and pass the bill for the election of the Milwaukee aldermen. It was the first time that he had voted "aye" on a proposition to pass a bill under suspension of the rules, this season.

Stout Has Influence. One of the most industrious and quiet men in the senate is Senator James H. Stout of Menominee. He is deeply interested in all educational subjects, and commands the respect and friendship of all his compeers. He never speaks except to answer roll call, or to ask for leave of absence, but in committee he is a great worker, and much deferred to.

The democratic minority of the senate, Col. Harry I. Weed of Oshkosh and Senator Jacobs of Beaver Dam, are both young men and men of parts. They get on harmoniously together, have no factional differences, and have no trouble in enlisting all the help they want for their private bills. Naturally, they are "agin the government" and so will vote against the primary bill. They enjoy a republican fight, and in that sense "hate peace."

It is safe to say that, as a body of men the senate is above the average, and while nothing has so far developed to bring out phenomenal ability, there are a number of quiet men yet to be heard from like Gaveny and Morse and Whitehead, who are men of decided convictions and excellent understanding.

GOLF GROUNDS IN GOOD CONDITION

Quite a Number of Improvements and Additions Are in Contemplation by Siniissippi Club.

The annual meeting of the Western Golf Association was held yesterday at the Grand Pacific hotel, Chicago, at 2 p. m. Members from all clubs in the association met at this time, to elect officers and directors, and arrange dates for games and tournaments during the coming season.

Albert Schaller, president of the Siniissippi Golf club, and Joseph P. Baker, secretary, attended the meeting. They hope to make arrangements with some of the other members of the organization to hold team matches with the Siniissippi club this season.

The grounds of the Siniissippi club even at this early day are in excellent shape for playing. The ground is of such a rolling character that it has dried out in fine shape. The greens are almost as smooth as during the summer and some of the players have already put up first class scores.

The grounds and buildings will be greatly improved during the season. One or two bunkers will be put in, and the greens and course improved by seeding and rolling. The course as it is an ideal one and a few improvements in the greens and teeing grounds will make it equal to any nine-hole course in the west. The two small houses now located near the wind mill will be moved away and made into a house for the accommodation of the green keeper and his wife. Several improvements will also be made in the interior of the large club house which will make it more convenient for the guests.

The only thing not lacking to make the grounds the most popular resort in the city is the lack of transportation. If the street car track could be induced to build a spur track from Madison avenue to the grounds, which is a distance of about seven-eighths of a mile, it would be one of the best paying lines in the system. It is safe to say that during the summer months the grounds would be visited by from fifty to seventy-five members every day. The bus which was operated by the club last summer from the car line to the grounds more than paid expenses. If the members knew that they could get a car to the grounds every half hour the number that would attend every day would be more than doubled. On tournament days and special occasions there is always a large crowd which would bring up the average of the passengers the line could carry, very materially.

While in Chicago yesterday attending the meeting of the Western Golf association, President Schaller and Secretary Baker arranged a team match with the Chicago Newspaper Golf club to take place on the home links the first week in June.

The Chicago club will send a team of from ten to fifteen players who are not only golf enthusiasts but good fellows. They expect to be in shape by that time to carry home the scalps of the Janesville team to be hung in the offices of the different papers they represent as souvenirs of their victory. They are sure of a most hearty reception from the members of the Siniissippi club who will try and save their own scalps and capture a few themselves for trophies.

BRAIN FOOD.

Is of Little Benefit Unless it is Digested.

Nearly every one will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains.

For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact every one engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful.

Only men engaged in a severe outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health. As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all men, women and children, and grains, fruit and vegetables should constitute the bulk of food eaten.

But many of the most nutritious are difficult of digestion and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat largely of grains and vegetables where the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly.

It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years experience have proven Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be very safe, pleasant and effective digestive and a remedy which may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels nor any particular organ but only on the food eaten. They supply what weak stomachs lack, pepsin diastase and by stimulating the gastric glands increase the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid.

People who make a daily practice of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal are sure to have perfect digestion which means perfect health.

There is no danger of forming a dangerous habit as the tablets contain absolutely nothing but natural digestives; cocaine, morphine and similar drugs have no place in a stomach medicine and Stuart's Dyspepsia

Tablets are certainly the best known and the most popular of all stomach remedies.

Ask your druggist for a fifty-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous energy.

THE JANESVILLE GAZETTE

TELEGRAPHIC SERVICE.

The Gazette receives the full daily telegraphic report of the Scripps-McKee Press Association.

Wisconsin Weather Forecast.

Threatening with rain tonight; high winds.

STANDARD OF HONESTY.

A Kansas judge, in passing sentence on a young man who was convicted of stealing from his employer, said recently: "I don't see how it is possible for a boy to be honest on six dollars a week." If this statement had been made in any other state, it would have occasioned a good deal of surprise, but Kansas is so crazy wild on all propositions, that any code of morals or honesty suggested appears to fill the bill.

The boy went to prison to serve out his sentence; feeling that he was a martyr, for the judge had told him so. The chances are that he will be a confirmed criminal in ten years, filled with the notion that the world owes him a living, he is at perfect liberty to steal it, and Kansas justice will uphold him in the act.

That sort of sentiment which is too prevalent in the minds of young men, needs no encouragement from the bench. On the other hand it should be denounced as most dangerous and pernicious, for it attacks the foundation of honesty.

There is no temptation that comes to a young man with greater force, than the one suggested by the Kansas judge. The few dollars that he earns, barely supply him with the most common necessities of life, his associates have plenty of money, wear better clothes, and he is not able to keep up with the procession on six dollars a week.

There will never come a time in his experience, when he will need to hold himself to strict honesty so closely, as the first year or two of his business career. If he can't be honest on six dollars a week, he will find it very difficult to be honest on any income that he will ever receive, and unless he cultivates the economy to live honestly within the means of the small income, the chances are very much against him so far as business success is concerned.

It isn't a lack of earning capacity that produces poverty, and it isn't a lack of ability to buy the necessities and many of the comforts of life that keeps people poor, but it is a lack of effort to economize and a disposition to save. Many men and women on salaries, and many mechanics working for good wages, never know what it is to have a dollar at the end of the week, and many of them never know what it is to be out of debt. This policy pursued for a term of years—and it is very industriously pursued by a very large class—produces not only poverty, but all sorts of discontent and dissipation. It is the foundation of strikes and labor agitation, and finally becomes the enemy of capital, and a menace to the welfare of the country. The malcontent in the ranks of labor is not the man who buys a home, and accumulated a little property. He has nothing to complain of, and only asks for an opportunity to work. He found it possible, when he was a boy to be honest on six dollars a week, and he has been honest ever since, not only with the world but with himself.

The Kansas judge should be disbarred. His doctrine is dangerous, and his standard of honesty too low a sort. It requires manhood to be honest at any price per week, and the young man who doesn't possess, and practice it on six dollars, will be destitute at any rate of compensation.

EQUITABLE TAXATION.

It is not likely that much important legislation will be attempted until the primary bill is disposed of, but that bill out of the way in a few days and the lawmakers will be ready for business. One of the questions that will demand intelligent attention, and that should be handled without prejudice, is the question of taxation. The growth of the state makes it necessary to spend more money for its running expenses, and while extravagance should not be tolerated, the legitimate wants of the state should be met in a business like way.

Every man, as well as every corporation, is interested in the welfare of the commonwealth, and the money necessary to properly support the state, should be so equitably distributed, as not to be regarded a burden. The budget for the next two years contemplates an increase of several hundred thousand dollars, and bills now pending ask the railroads to pay a liberal share of this increase, in spite of the fact that they are already heavy tax payers.

The representatives of these corporations claim that Wisconsin taxes are higher than any other state, and ask for just and equitable treatment. There is nothing unreasonable about the request, and no misrepresentation about their statements. Every mile of track and every dollar's worth of equipment added by these corporations, contributes to the development and prosperity of the state, and every citizen shares in this development. Janesville property today is increasing in value because of railroad enterprise, and what is true of Janesville is true of many other cities in the state. Railroad interests and individual interests are largely mutual, the railroads can't do without the people, and the people need the railroads, where one prospers the other prospers. It is suicidal to say to these corporations, the state needs more money and you must furnish it at the expense of other property interests. It is true that the railroads enjoy unusual privileges, not accorded to the individual, but it is also true that they furnish unusual advantages, not possible to the individual. While unjust an injudicious legislation can not drive them out of the state, it is possible to so handicap them, that the state will suffer more than the corporations. This has been done in Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa, and Wisconsin can hardly afford to follow these erratic states, on any policy. The best interests of the state will be conserved by equitable taxation, and this will satisfy public sentiment.

Most of the large cities of the country are democratic, and yet the St. Louis and Chicago victory is heralded as an occasion for great rejoicing. These cities and many others, will be under democratic rule, just so long as party lines are made the issue. It would be infinitely better for them, as well as for all municipal government, if politics was ignored and good men selected to fill office of trust without regard to political creed. The law abiding and intelligent element should combine in all cities, against all other elements, in the interests of pure government.

The city of Chicago enjoys the administration of Mayor Harrison so thoroughly, that he is elected to a third term by a good majority. It is stated that 100,000 voters were so well satisfied with any kind of mayor, that they forgot to vote. Responsibility strikes some people like water does a duck—they never feel it. The civic federation ad reformers will now kick! There's nothing like occupation for busy people.

The Social Economics club of Chicago is discussing the question of cheap living. The claim is made, and figures produced to justify it, that many students are living and educating themselves on $2.50 per week. It is safe to say that this class of young people will not find it difficult to be honest on six dollars per week, the Kansas judge to the contrary, notwithstanding.

Tolstoi has been marched across the border of his native land by soldiers, and has been excommunicated by the bishops, for his book, "Resurrection," but truth can not be excommunicated or banished, and many things the count has written will put in practice as soon as Russia emerges from medievalism.

Dean Vaughan of the School of Medicine at Ann Arbor has the hardihood to tell his classes that women almost always fail in original thinking demanded in laboratory work. However, he throws a sop by giving them credit for better book recitations than men.

One little town in Nebraska has gone daffy. Resolutions were adopted making Carrie Nation moderator of the town, and nothing will be done in the way of government without her direction. Whiskey and tobacco will not be tolerated, and the mayor and Mrs. Nation will do all the swearing.

The anti-imperialists who have been calling Aguinaldo a hero, will now call him a traitor, probably, because he has taken the oath of allegiance. In taking the oath Aguinaldo has shown more good sense than at any time since his return to Luzon.

Mr. Flynt has told some plain facts about the New York police, in McClure's Magazine, and now the officers are after him. Of course they can't find him; they don't want to, anyway, as it is only a "bluff."

Iowa can always be relied upon to furnish candidates for presidential nomination. This time it is Gov. L. M. Shaw who has his eye on the White House for 1904.

During the last ten years Chicago has had 4,000 fires caused by the use of gasoline, resulting in the destruction of nearly $1,000,000 worth of property.

Farmers' Telephone Co.

A Farmers' Telephone Co. has been organized among the well to do farmers in the town of Porter, having in view the connecting of nearly every farm house with some central exchange, and eventually extending the lines into Edgerton and Janesville. The plan is for each farmer to subscribe for $30 worth of stock with the expectation, that the aggregate amount of contributions will construct and equip the line. Beginning at Fulton village the line will first be built south and west along the Evansville road past the Eagle creamery into the southern part of town. Among those who are interesting themselves in the project are J. W. Bates, G. W. Nichols, A. B. Fessenden, B. W. Towns, C. Hosage, Geo. Lynte and others.

No Stamps on Official Bonds.

An important ruling by Commissioner Yerkes of the department of the interior, to the effect that revenue stamps are not required on official bonds, has just been received by Internal Revenue Collector Monahan. The ruling is based on the decision of the United States circuit court of appeals in an Ohio case, in which it was held that a 50-cent revenue stamp cannot be required on the official bond of a notary public. Commissioner Yerkes rules that in accordance with this opinion, all bonds of state, county or municipal officer, conditioned for the due execution or performance of the duties of any office or position, and to account for money received by virtue thereof, are exempt from tax.

In Municipal Court.

Carpenter for the defendant.

Shortly after the arrival of the goods at Albany, while they were still in the custody of the railroad they were stolen. Kane was seen around there shortly after the goods arrived and the supposition is that he had a hand in their disappearance. Detective Watson was sent out by the company to see if he could locate the man or the goods.

BELOIT DISCOVERS SMALL POX CASE

Man from Tomahawk, Wis., Brings Dread Disease Into the Line City—He is Locked Up.

W. H. Appleby received a telephone message from his brother, Marshall George Appleby, telling him not to let his daughter, who is here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Appleby, come to Beloit as they have small pox in that city.

It seems that a stranger arrived in the city from Tomahawk, Wis., yesterday afternoon and immediately commenced making the rounds of the saloons and business places. He looked as if he was suffering from some skin disease but nothing was thought of it until some one became suspicious of him and found out where he came from. He was immediately taken in charge and examined by the doctors who pronounced it a well developed case of small pox.

The people of the city are much excited over the affair and are wondering what the outcome will be. A large number of people were exposed by the man before he was detained.

The doctors are doing a rushing business in vaccine points as numerous persons are being vaccinated as a safeguard against an epidemic.

Considering the great number of cases that have appeared all over the northern part of the state during the winter, it is wonderful that the cities in the southern part of the state have escaped without having any serious trouble. The health authorities in the northern part of the state have been very strict about maintaining quarantines and very few cases have escaped from the section where they were first exposed.

It is hoped that Beloit will not experience any serious trouble from their unwelcome visitor.

MISSION WORK IN INTERIOR OF AFRICA

An Interesting Talk by Rev. Melvin Frasier at the Presbyterian Church Last Night.

Rev. Melvin Frasier, a returned missionary from Africa entertained the audience at the Presbyterian church prayer meeting last evening with an account of the interior of Africa. His talk was exceedingly interesting owing largely to the fact that so little news is brought directly from Africa in comparison with China Japan and other of the foreign countries. So isolated is the part of the country where Rev. Frasier labors among the natives that they did not hear of the Boer war until months after the beginning of the trouble. Cable communication brings America in much closer touch with the scene of the war than is known in any of the countries in the interior of Africa.

DUEL IS FOUGHT BY WOMEN

One of Them Wounded by Two Bullets.

OUTCOME OF AN OLD FEUD.

Battle Took Place in Oklahoma—Victim Says Her Revolver Did Not Work and Desires Another Meeting as Soon as She Has Recovered.

Newkirk, Okla., April 5.—Mrs. Ella Seiglin and Mrs. Daughson, living near this city, fought a duel with revolvers at twenty paces yesterday, and Mrs. Seiglin is now in a hospital, dangerously but not necessarily fatally wounded. Two of her opponent's shots lodged in her breast, but she is able to talk volubly and is anxious to recover in order that she may again fight Mrs. Daughson. The duel grew out of a long-standing feud between the women, jealousy being the original cause. Mrs. Daughson lives on a farm just south of the city, and Mrs. Seiglin has frequently traveled that way to arouse the temper of her neighbor by various means, the most effectual being the claim that she (Mrs. Seiglin) could take Mrs. Daughson's husband away from his wife any time she wished.

Appealed to the Courts.

Mrs. Daughson finally appealed to the courts, and yesterday forenoon Mrs. Seiglin was fined $300 for trespassing upon the Daughson property and inciting trouble. As soon as she paid the fine Mrs. Seiglin drove out to the Daughson home, smarting under the loss of money and the criticism of the trial judge. Riding up to the door of the Daughson home, she dared her rival to come out and fight a duel. Mrs. Daughson promptly accepted the challenge and came out armed with a double-action revolver. Mrs. Seiglin alighted from her buggy and tied her horse. The women then faced each other at fifty feet and began shooting, the signal being given by a daughter of Mrs. Seiglin, who had accompanied her from town. Each fired three shots without effect. Then Mrs. Daughson got the range and fired two shots in quick succession, both striking Mrs. Seiglin in the breast. She fell, and Mrs. Daughson assisted in carrying her into the house, where a physician dressed her wounds, after which she was conveyed to the hospital.

Husbands Likely to Fight.

Now the husbands of the women are seeking each other, vowing to kill on sight. The partisans of each woman are also burnishing up their weapons and seeking an excuse to shoot somebody. During the trial yesterday the two women attempted several times to fly at each other and fight it out there and there, and the belligerent spirit permeated the entire courtroom. Mrs. Seiglin says her revolver refused to work after the first three shots and that she will make a better record when next she faces Mrs. Daughson. The latter has not yet been arrested, and grimly remarks that she has taken the precaution to reload her revolver and oil its joints, and that she can be found at home by anyone looking for an argument.

JOHNSON FOR PRESIDENT.

Friends of Cleveland's New Mayor Consider Him on Way to White House. Cleveland, Ohio, April 5.—The election of Tom L. Johnson to the mayorship of Cleveland is accepted by his political friends and enemies here to mean that he has won his first great victory in his march toward the presidential chair. His immediate friends feel absolutely certain that he will be the nominee of the party three years hence. They back up their belief by reasoning that seems plausible. They point out that he is the only leader in the democratic party on whom both factions can unite. Four years ago he refused to participate actively in the presidential campaign because his party and its presidential candidate, William Jennings Bryan, stood committed to free silver. At a banquet at the beginning of that campaign he made use of the expression, "Mr. Johnson is out of tune with his party." At the election, however, he voted. In the campaign of a year ago Johnson and Bryan became warm friends. He expects to be able to swing the sound money democrats into line for his support at the next presidential convention. Under the tutelage of Willis J. Abbott, who spends his time in this city and Ann Arbor, Johnson has lately taken up the dogmas of municipal ownership and the 3-cent street railway fare, and when he was nominated for mayor of Cleveland by the democratic party he received warm, friendly letters from W. J. Bryan, ex-Gov. Altgeld, ex-Gov. Pingree and Sam Jones of Toledo, chief prophets of the common people. The relations between Johnson and Bryan are those of more than ordinary friendship, and there is no doubt but that Johnson has won the attention and liking of many minor leaders of the faction of which Bryan is the head.

SALVATION ARMY EXPENSE MATTER

Captain Butler, who has charge of the Salvation army work here, has been called to Keokuk, Ia., by the illness of his wife. In his absence Lieut. Wallace will be the officer in command. A typographical error in last evening's Gazette was responsible for the statement that Capt. Butler would receive $100 a month salary. As the article previously stated that the entire cost of supporting the army would be $100 a month and afterwards said that Capt. Butler was entitled to $10 a week with $1 for each child, it will readily be seen that $100 a month salary statement was an unintentional mistake. The correction is made however for fear that a misunderstanding would arise that would place the army in a false position with the public. Capt. Butler, being a married man with one child is entitled to a salary of $11 a week.

Two Funerals.

The remains of the late Mrs. Carpenter of Lynn, Mass., will arrive in the city tomorrow morning at 11:20 o'clock. The funeral of the late Mrs. Nicholas Walsh will be held from St. Patrick's church tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

BLOODSHED IN A STRIKE.

Graders on Mexican Side of Nacoosri Railway in a Riot.

Phoenix, Ariz., April 5.—Striking graders along Nacoosri railway are causing a veritable reign of terror and all work has been suspended. Yesterday the strikers burned a lot of contractors' supplies near Douglas and tore up pieces of the track. The Mexican police are entirely unable to cope with the rioters and if lawlessness should develop into general and united rioting the officers would be outnumbered ten to one. All officers in Cochise county are guarding towns on the American side of the line, but the government will be asked to send militia if the mob on the Mexican side comes northward. As yet beyond the burning of a few freight cars the strikers have confined their depredations to Mexican soil. Two of the rioters have been shot and killed by Mexican rurales, and the jail at Fronteras is full of prisoners. A message has been sent from contractors at Fronterasto the military department at Mexico City stating that the strikers are drunk and uncontrollable.

"He expects to take the purse this year in the big three cornered race between Herr, Baralma and Cresceus at Readville. Cresceus is the stallion that won out last year after Herr had taken two heats. Kelly says that Herr is in splendid condition for the coming season and he looks for a series of sweeping victories. # R & G CORSETS

NEVER STRETCH

The moderately straight R & G No. 397 was and is the corset of comfort with the essence of style. It is straight enough for the prevailing vogue and curved enough to conform to healthful anatomical lines. In 1900 we were unable to fully meet the demand for straight-front goods and unwilling to resort to any makeshift to meet the conditions. At present, however, considerable additions to our factory facilities enable us to keep the trade supplied with real straight-front corsets at retail prices from $1.00 to $2.50, and also our 397, 197, Empire and other popular numbers. There are over seventy styles and sizes of R & G Corsets—a corset to fit every figure. R & G Corsets are the corsets that do not stretch. Every hairbreadth of stretch is taken out of the goods by means of steam-heated iron forms. This gives a permanency to the right shape and form that will stay in it until the last day you wear it. Every R & G Corset is sold with the understanding that it must give satisfaction to the wearer, or the dealer will supply a new one free of cost. If your dealer hasn't it, send us his name and we will see that you are supplied with what you want.

REVEALS A NEW CONFESSION

Cross-Examination of Murderer of Millionaire Rice.

FURTHER FACTS ARE ELICITED.

In This Statement Valet Jones Says That Patrick, Not He, Had Chloroformed the Old Man Rice—Murderer's Confession in Red Ink.

New York, April 5.—The principal fact elicited at the day's session of court in the continued cross-examination of Valet Charles F. Jones in the case of Albert T. Patrick, charged with the murder of William M. Rice, was that Jones had made still another confession, differing in two important particulars from any of the confessions which had hitherto been made public. This statement was made in Bellevue hospital, after he had cut his throat, to George Gordon Battle, the attorney whom Jones was prevailed upon to take in the place of Fred House. In it he said that Patrick, not he, had chloroformed old man Rice, and he also asserted the validity of Rice's signature to the will of May 26 in Patrick's favor, now destroyed. Counsel for Patrick tried to read the statement, but found it hard to decipher.

"If you can't read it hand it back over here," said Patrick. Patrick took it into his hands and began reading. This is what he read, the initials P. and R., of course, being abbreviations in the manuscript for Patrick and Rice:

"P. felt R.'s pulse and listened to his heart. P. told R. to get a towel and sponge. R. had used that sponge for cleaning his clothes. When I returned P. had a bottle in his hand, which was filled with a colorless liquid, and which he put on the bureau. He then wrapped the towel around his hand in conical shape, pinned it with a safety-pin, which he had taken from the bureau, and then replaced the funnel end of it on his (Rice's) face."

During the reading of this passage the little room in which Justice Jerome is holding the examination was still as a church. The eyes of everyone were on the face of the bald-headed, red-bearded, bespectacled lawyer, who sat there reading as calmly and carelessly this account of how he had murdered the old millionaire as if he were earning a lawyer's fee by doing it. Oddly enough the lines he read were written in the statement in red ink.

Before court opened there was talk among the lawyers and Justice Jerome about waiving further examination.

"That would be impossible," said the Justice. "As yet nothing has been shown to prove that Patrick is really guilty of murder except the uncorroborated testimony of an acknowledged accomplice. I will not accept a waiver at the present time from either side."

The district attorney said he had corroborated. Justice Jerome also warned Attorney Moore not to badger Jones by gratuitously insulting him. The whole tenor of the cross-examination by Mr. Moore for the day was toward showing that the influence of Captain Baker and others interested in the establishment of the validity of the will of 1896, as against the alleged forgery still existent of June 30, 1900, was responsible for Jones' last change of front as well as for his desertion of Patrick.

Launch Celtic, Biggest Liner.
London, April 5.—The largest steamer in the world, the White Star liner Celtic, was launched at Harland and Wolff's yard, Belfast, without a hitch. The Celtic is 20,000 tons burden, with a displacement of 36,000 tons.

The Celtic is a prototype of a new class of ocean greyhounds, intended to establish a new record of carrying capacity and speed. She is larger than the Deutschland or the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, afloattime monarchs of the sea. Her great draught will introduce new factors into the deep harbor problem on both sides of the Atlantic.

Steamer on the Rocks.
New Haven, Conn., April 5.—The steamer Chester W. Chapin, running between New York and Providence, ran on the rocks off Patience Island, in Narragansett bay, during the fog last night.

The passengers were rescued without injury.

cannot get happy results from poor paper. In this year of 1901 there is absolutely no excuse for anyone buying in-artistic and inharmonious wall paper, no matter how thin their purse may be. Its merely a question of going to the right place—to the place where a stock of wall paper large enough and varied enough in quality, design and price to suit all people's tastes and purses is kept—a store which aids its customers in securing harmonious combinations of colors, and which has its own wall paper hangers and decorators, who do your work in a careful and conscientious manner.
